DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Suter et al (Suter).

Suter's Fig. 1 shows a FFT architecture including a "pipeline segment having a plurality of data-independent pipelines ... intermediate results" (elements 110, 120 and 140) and a "parallel segment ... frequency-domain results" (elements 141, 150 and 160).

Relative to applicant's remarks an FFT by definition is a device that receives "time-domain samples" and outputs "frequency-domain results", i.e. it is inherent. Also note lines 4-5 and 35-38 of claim 1.

3. Claims 1-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by both Jaber and Nakazuru et al (Nakazuru).

Jaber's Fig. 9 and Nakazuru's Fig. 1 both show a FFT architecture including a "pipeline segment having a plurality of data-independent pipelines ... intermediate results" (Jaber's elements 904A and 904B and Nakazuru's element 1) and a "parallel segment ... frequency-domain results" (Jaber's elements 916 and 918 and Nakazuru's elements 4, 7, and 2).

Relative to applicant's remarks an FFT by definition is a device that receives "time-domain samples" and outputs "frequency-domain results", i.e. it is inherent.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 15-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over either Suter, Jaber or Nakazuru and Nakai et al (Nakai).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to implement any of the FFT systems as taught by Suter, Jaber or Nakazuru in a OFDM receiver because Nakai teaches the need for an FFT in an OFDM receiver.

Relative to applicant's remarks the suggestion to combine comes from Nakai's use of an FFT in an OFDM receiver. An OFDM receiver inherently includes an antenna and the other recited elements are shown in each of the references Suter, Jaber and Nakazuru as detail above.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

6. Claims 6, 13 and 15-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claims 6, 13 and 20 are vague and indefinite i.e. the scope of the claimed subject matter cannot be determined, because without previously reciting “complex multipliers” the phrase “to substitute real multipliers for complex multipliers” lacks meaning. Claim 15, lines 4-5; the phrase “said receiver section” lacks clear antecedent basis.

Conclusion

7. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
